When you buy cloth, you pay for it by the yard. When you buy sugar, you pay for it by the pound. When you buy advertising, you pay for it by the 1000 circulation.

When you buy advertising space in Barre, you get the lowest rates per 1000 circulation and the best returns from the Daily Times. Its advertising rates per 1000 circulation are but two-thirds what they are elsewhere in Barre.

Are you saving that one-third by advertising in the Times?

PICKING A CANDIDATE FOR VICE PRESIDENT.

New Hampshire Republicans, in yesterday's convention, came out boldly for "Roosevelt and Fairbanks" as the national Republican ticket for the coming election. The endorsement of the former was, of course, expected, but the hearty support given the second name on the ticket will have a considerable influence. The conditions that confront the national convention this year are unusual. There is the strange situation, wherein lies no contest whatever over the first and the important position on the ticket—that of the presidential nominee. Theodore Roosevelt's support is even now well-nigh unanimous and by the time the convention will have been called together there will be no opposition to him. It will be nomination by acclamation. In strange contrast to this will be the disunion over the vice-presidential nomination. And there is no fight among candidates for this honor. Rather there is a wide difference of opinion among the Republican voters as to who will make a suitable running-mate for Roosevelt. Of those most prominently considered, Senator Fairbanks of Indiana and Representative Hitt of Illinois stand far in the lead at the present time. Either one would make an acceptable candidate for the position and would lend great strength to the Republican ticket. Thus far the sentiment among Republicans has not solidified enough to make one a decidedly greater favorite than the other, but Senator Fairbanks appears to have the greater strength. New Hampshire's endorsement of him, while not of great importance of itself, shows which way the sentiment tends.

The announcement recently made by William Randolph Hearst that he would not bolt the Democratic convention is taken to mean by some that he has practically given up his idea of securing the nomination for president from that party, and that he will be a candidate again in 1908. The results of recent state conventions have not been such as to give Hearst a great degree of confidence in the success of his boom, and if, as reported, he has about given up hope he shows good generalship.

Just about this time the most of us regard the "joy-in-work" theory of President Elliot of Harvard University as a trifle fallacious. If it is not fallacious the theory appears to be in advance of us. Work remains as a means of sustenance but not really joy in the commonly accepted meaning of the word. There is satisfaction in work well done, however.

We agree with the Northfield News that the building that is being erected at the St. Louis fair grounds by one, Arthur C. Jackson, should not be allowed to carry the name "The Vermont Building." An appropriate designation would be "The Jackson House."

The announcement that the police of Burlington have discontinued the search for the murderer of policeman McGrath is significant. Meanwhile the one man under arrest as a suspect eats and sleeps well.

The Republicans of Illinois have balloted 31 times to get a candidate for governor and have not got one yet. gubernatorial candidates are secured more easily in Vermont.

The man who is guilty of arson is a most despicable coward, and deserves the extreme penalty if caught.

The city fathers take hold of a cloudy subject when they tackle the dust nuisance on Main street.

ABOUT THE STATE.

Items of Interest Gleaned From Our Exchanges.

Dr. E. J. Fish of South Royalton, is a candidate for the nomination for state senator from Windsor county.

Work has been begun on the flume at the mill of the Missisquoi Pulp Co. at Sheldon Springs this week and Messrs. Shepley expect that the mill will be started in a few weeks.

Lewis Shoro of Forestdale, in the town of Brandon, recently purchased an old building belonging to the estate of Arthur Gibson. The building was formerly used for a tool shop. Mr. Shoro had it torn down and the lumber removed to his place in Forestdale, and is building a barn with it. One day recently a plank that had been carelessly used for staging and other purposes attracted Mr. Shoro's attention and upon looking at the end of it he discovered that it contained a tin box. There had been a hole made at the end of the plank just large enough to secrete the box. It was found to contain $12,000 in government bonds, besides all of Mr. Gibson's valuable papers. Some of the papers were dated 1880 and it is thought they have been in there since that year.

TO THE PEOPLE OF MONTPELIER, BARRE AND SURROUNDING TOWNS:—

We are in Montpelier now to give our personal attention to the Corner Store business, and we extend a cordial invitation to all the old customers of the Corner Store, our friends and the general public. Below we announce the class of Dry Goods business we shall endeavor to do at the Corner Store and upon what principles it will be conducted.

The Class of Goods We Shall Sell.

The very best kinds in the lines we shall carry will be found at the Corner Store, with a good variety to select from. No pains will be spared to maintain the standard for selling reliable merchandise that this store has enjoyed in years past.

A Word as to Our Values.

From the start we want you to expect to find excellent values—the best of goods at right prices. To know that for the cent, dime or dollar that you spend at the Corner Store you are going to get the value of your money in return, and feel assured that you have used it to its best advantage.

The Policy of the Corner Store.

All goods will be sold for CASH and strictly one price. Our experience in the Dry Goods business has taught us that we can serve the public best on a cash basis, for we avoid big office expenses and bad debts which any credit business has to maintain and for which the public has to settle.

All Goods Exactly as Represented.

If by accident they should not prove as such, any claim will be properly adjusted. We shall not try to make the public believe that we can give a dollar for fifty cents, for we hardly think intelligent people believe such can be done. In brief, we shall supply you with up-to-date merchandise at right prices, make the store inviting and try and impress you with the fact that your trade is appreciated, and use every honorable and intelligent effort to win your confidence and retain it.

Our Specialties Will Be the Following:

Undermuslins and Corsets, Hosiery, Underwear, Neckwear, Belts, White Goods, Wash Goods, Dress-makers' Supplies, Black Silks and Linens. The other things that go with a well arranged store will be found here and they will be here as soon as we can get them here from the New York market.
